

A note from Larry of Essense-of-Life on Cesium Chloride/DMSO (pH therapy) for Cancer Patients

---

Cesium Chloride is taken in by every cell in the body. Every cell has a potassium pump. Cesium looks like potassium to the cells. Cancer cells use more of every thing so they will get more cesium. Healthy cells metabolism slows down, the healthy cells become more efficient there fore they need less of everything to function properly. It is like taking an anti-aging formula healthy cells live longer. There are some people that even do chemo and pH therapy at the same time and it seems that based on feed back that the cancer cells become less resistant to the chemo and the healthy cells become more resistant to the chemo. So it appears that the side effects from the chemo are not as intense. Pain may or may not stop with in days. It all depends on the cancer and the location of the cancer. Increased pain is an indication that your immune system has recognized the cancer in the body as a threat to system. Your (cesium) vendor should be able to help you with this once they have the information needed to help you with your condition. PH Therapy is good for all stages of cancer and any cancer. The earlier you catch it and alkalize your body the better chances you have to get your immune system to reverse your condition. Dosage and application depends on cancers location, appetite and body weight. This should all be covered by your (cesium) vendor. Good venders will help you with this information. We return all calls Monday thru Friday and our clients that have problems can be called on the weekend. Some conditions have to be taken care of right away. An alkaline diet is needed. You can do the real Bud-wig diet (uses quark cheese and not cottage cheese or cottage cheese that comes from goats milk) and not the modified Bud-wig diets advertised on the internet. You want to avoid pork, whey, gluten, soy and cows milk products.

Glen Russell of Puna Wai Ora (www.alternative-cancer-care.com) asks Larry a few questions about cesium and cancer

---

Glen: As you have been helping clients for 16 years with cesium pH therapy, have you kept track of survival statistics with your clients taking this therapy, and if so, do you have any stats you can provide?

Larry: Sorry but no stats. People will buy products for up to a year or longer and then they stop. At that time I do not know what their status is. Years later or by a referral is when I know whether they are still alive. Base on this I know I have a good success rate. I know that if you start the therapy in the early stages of cancer, the better chances you have to be successful in the out come. Many people who are successful do not do a maintenance therapy and months or years down the road their cancer returns since they went back to their old habits.

Glen: Are there any negative reactions to cesium pH therapy you have witnessed that clients should look out for?

Larry: Must watch potassium levels closely. If a person has a high sodium level their potassium levels will be low and vise versa. Flu like symptoms, occasional tingling in the lips and face. Fingers and toes may get real sensitive to the cold. When the immune system attacks the cancer it will bring inflammation in and around the cancer. This inflammation can increase pressure and pain in that area. Some times the pain goes away in a short time and it can go on for a long time. This all depends what kind of cancer the person is dealing with and the location of the cancer. All this information should come from the vendor or a doctor who knows how to help you.

Glen: What is the duration (length) of cesium pH therapy? (i.e. is it ongoing or a specific length of time)

Larry: I always tell people a year or longer to make sure the cancer is gone. I have had people get results with early stages of cancer in 3 to 6 months. The body's immune system will start reacting to the cancer within 24 hours or less. People with Stage 4 cancer can take years to get cancer free. I had one lady who had stage 4 multiple myeloma with extensive bone deterioration and it took her a little over 3 years to get cancer free. Unfortunately she stopped everything and in a couple of years later it came back with a vengeance. In fact 16 years ago I started taking the products and the immune system response showed me that I had cancer so I became more aggressive in my treatment and have never been to a doctor to get rid of it. And to this day I still take Cesium.

Glen: You offer more than 10 cesium pH therapy packages, ranging from a cost of US$205 to $1123 per month. Is the Cesium chloride/DMSO package for US$262 per month adequate for cancer patients, or do you sometimes recommend they take a higher costing package for health reasons?

Larry: Packages are set up for people who can only afford the bare minimum to get started because starting with something is always better than doing nothing. And yes people have been successful with these lower costing packages. The more expensive packages are a more aggressive approach if the person can afford it. If you will go to our site and click on Health topics, scroll down to cesium and click on it, you will find tons of information and research on the subject and you can do this for every individual product in the package to see how it will benefit you in fighting your cancer. If you will click on the individual package and look at the list of items in the package, you will see that some products last 1 month, 2 months and 3 months. So the month to month will vary in cost. Dosages again are determined by body weight, age and location of the cancer. I have worked with children when it is possible and have had great results using a much smaller dosage of cesium. The information on line about taking less than 3 grams causes cancer to grow is totally bogus information. Cesium accumulates in the cells and the half-life is 100 to 110 days. There is no limit on Cesium. Some times you will need to take a break for a few days or week or so and when you start back on the therapy you start with a smaller dosage and continue on. Some times people have to take more potassium if their levels get too low.

Additional note by Larry: In late stages of cancer, many times a doctor will have to get involved one way or another. There are no conflicts with Chemo or any other therapy out there. The real Bud-wig diet is very close to the alkaline diet and can be very beneficial while on the PH Therapy. You can find the real Bud-wig diet information on [www.killcancercells.com]. The Select Bud-wig diet is a modified Bud-wig and some of the products recommended are detrimental to your health. Our products are proprietary and not available anywhere else. One of these is Essense Blend with 45 ingredients. The product is a 4-month supply for only $80.00 and just ten of the ingredients bought from a health food store will cost more than $20.00 per month.

Disclaimer

---

Cesium chloride has potential severe/life-threatening side effects. The above information is provided purely for information purposes. Glen Russell of Puna Wai Ora (www.alternative-cancer-care.com) does not endorse the taking of any high-risk alternative cancer therapy unless under the strict guidance and supervision of a licensed medical professional.

[See also: <https://www.cancertutor.com/cesium-chloride/>]

[Warning of potential adverse side effects: <https://www.mskcc.org/cancer-care/integrative-medicine/herbs/cesium-chloride>]